

ECONOMIC & BUSINESS SCIENCES RESEARCH INSTITUTE

The mission of the Research Institute in Economic and Business Sciences is to generate new knowledge through scientific research and the training of highly qualified human resources. For this purpose, the Institute promotes and coordinates researchers' work and fosters various activities to disseminate research outcomes through the academia and the entire society.

The Institute's main objective is to contribute to the development of Economic and Business Sciences, particularly in those fields included in the University of Salvador's undergraduate and postgraduate Economic and Business programs.

The Research Institute, which was founded on January 1st, 2016, is regulated by the University President's Resolution 213/16, and it is based on the merger of two Schools, the Economic Sciences Faculty and the Business Administration Sciences Faculty, as well as their respective Research Institutes.

The lines of research are developed through research projects and programs. Those which are currently underway are the following:

- Argentine and World Economy Analysis and Prospect (or plural?)
- World Economy and Economic and Social Development
- Financial Information and Business Social Responsibility
- Ethics
- Pedagogy in Economic Sciences
- Taxes
- Business, Logistics, and Quality
- Coaching, Leadership, and Organizational Change
- Management, Digital Media, and Social Networks.
